Infrastructure Management Group, Inc. and Aurion Infrastructure Inc. Announce the Formation of IMG Aurion Infrastructure LLC

Bethesda, Maryland, and Toronto, Ontario, June 16, 2009 — Infrastructure Management Group, Inc. (IMG) and Aurion Infrastructure Inc. (All), a subsidiary of Aurion Capital Management Inc. (Aurion), an investment management firm majority owned by DundeeWealth Inc., announced today the formation of IMG Aurion Infrastructure LLC (IMG Aurion) a strategic venture that will provide investment advisory services to institutional investors in connection with investments in mid-market infrastructure across North America.

“Leveraging the synergies between IMG and All will create strategic advantages through its strong industry network, municipal clients, and independent market position that responds to emerging trends in the infrastructure investment market today,” said Philip F. Alfieri, Managing Partner, IMG Aurion Infrastructure LLC.

The venture will combine the industry expertise and infrastructure market presence of IMG and All with Aurion’s pension fund and portfolio management capabilities to provide institutional investors with investment products within the infrastructure asset class, including commingled funds, separate account mandates and co-investment opportunities. IMG Aurion favors assets in growth corridors and regions where urbanization trends and population demographics drive infrastructure renewal and expansions in the transportation, clean power, renewable energy, and environmental industries. Its seasoned professional infrastructure management and finance team will focus on value creation through development, expansions, repositioning, and hands-on asset management.

IMG has been at the forefront of the infrastructure dialogue with municipal government since its founding, advising on some of the most significant North American infrastructure public-private partnerships (P3s).

"We have seen cities and senior levels of government reach out for private sector solutions in response to their infrastructure needs like never before," said John Joyner, Managing Partner, IMG Aurion. "We intend to address their significant needs through our offering."

"We are extremely excited about the formation of IMG Aurion. Our seasoned management team and extended resources afford IMG Aurion the opportunity to create a range of institutional investment products in the infrastructure space." said Jerry Evans, Managing Partner of IMG Aurion. He further added, "because of its area of focus, IMG Aurion will develop complementary investment strategies for institutional investors with existing infrastructure portfolios".
